WELLS.

Arms: Or, a lion rampant, double-queued, sa., armed and langued, gu. Crest: A demi-lion, double-queued, of the shield.

Motto: Semper paratus. (Always ready.) Historical: William Wells, a lawyer from Norwich, England, came over in 1637, and settled at Southold, L. I., N. Y. He was a son of the Rev. William Wells, prebendary of the Church of St. Peter, Manhattan. On the tombstone of the Rev. Peter are found the arms above, and from this line descends H. M. Wells of Salt Lake City.

KIMBALL.

Arms: Argent, a lion rampant, gules, upon a chief, sable, three crescents, or. Crest: A lion rampant holding in the dexter paw a proper.

Motto: Fortis non flexus. Historical: The first record we have of this famous name is Richard Kimball, who came over in 1634 and settled in Ipswich, Mass., and from there his descendants have scattered through all parts of New England and New York, and many are in the great west, while some have gone to the Dominion of Canada.

This famous family has been distinguished in both civil and military affairs, and from this house descends Frank B. Kimball of Salt Lake City.

days a large sum of money was required to equip a vessel or even to pay for passage on such a long voyage and to provide means of subsistence when arrived at their destination; a sum far beyond the resources of the middle or lower classes. An "emigrant" in those days was a very different person from the emigrant of today.

Heraldry has become so fashionable among the American women of gentle birth that every woman with a claim

THATCHER.

Arms: Gules, a cross, moline, argent, on a chief, or, three grasshoppers, proper. Crest: A grasshopper, proper. Historical: We have a clear pedigree from the Rev. Thomas Thatcher, of Thatcher, born at Salisbury, England, in 1579, and belonging to the Thatchers of Ruggles, County Essex, originally of County Essex. (Visitation of 1584.)

The arms that we give belong to the descendants of Thomas Thatcher of Boston, who located there in 1673, and from this house comes Moses Thatcher of Salt Lake City.

SALISBURY.

Arms: Gules, a lion rampant, argent, on a chief, or, three grasshoppers, proper. Crest: A grasshopper, proper.

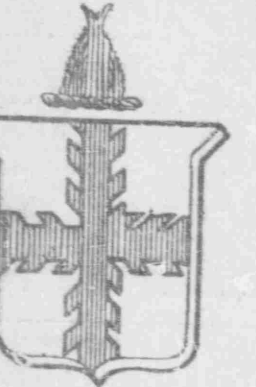

Motto: Sat est prostrasse leoni. (It is enough to have conquered a lion.) Historical: Among the early emigrants of the above name we find Edward Salisbury, second son of Sir Henry Salisbury, Bart., created in 1590. Of the same stock, tracing back to the Salisbury of Wales, we find John Salisbury, who died in Boston in 1592.

The revolutionary records of the state of New York contain the name of several Salisburys, who were all allied to the original house, and from this branch also descends O. J. Salisbury of Salt Lake City.

to blue blood immediately begins to look for the arms used in her family, and if she cannot find any claim to arms she immediately goes to work with the assistance of some one who makes heraldry a business to find a coat of arms for herself. The fashion of armorial bearing is as old as history.

Arms or armories are so-called because originally displayed upon defensive armor and "coats of arms," formerly embroidered upon the garment worn over the armor, and are supposed to have reached England in the time of Henry II and Coeur de Lion.

LAWRENCE.

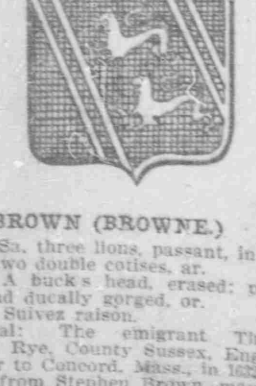

Arms: Argent, a cross, raguly, gules, between two bars, sable. Crest: A hand, grasping a sword, argent, with a banner, proper.

Historical: The above arms are registered to John Lawrence, one of his majesty's counselors in the province of Massachusetts, and they are found as a seal, and that of his father on the old records of Berkshire.

These arms are also found on the tombstone of James Lawrence of Hartford, Conn. (1839), and from this family descends J. S. Lawrence of Salt Lake City.

BROWN (BROWNE).

Arms: Sa, three lions passant, in bend between two double cotices, ar. Crest: A buck, head, erased, proper, attired and ducally gorged, or.

Motto: Suavis raiion. Historical: The emigrant Thomas Brown of Rye, County Sussex, England, came over to Concord, Mass., in 1632. He descends from Stephen Brown, mayor of London in 1486, the arms of whom we reproduce. The same shield is also found on the tomb of the Rev. Marmaduke Brown in Westchester county, and various Arms: Quarterly, 1st and 4th, or, an eagle displayed with two heads gu. 2d and 3d, per bend embowed, arg. and gu.; over all an escutcheon, or, charged with three stars, horns, steel, gu. and two and one.

Crest: An eagle displayed, with two heads, per pale, embowed, argent and gules.

Motto: Dominus providebit. (The Lord will provide.)

Historical: The colonist, John McVieker, came to this country in 1799, and became one of the leading and wealthiest merchants of New York during the revolutionary period, and at the time of the war of 1812. His name is found associated with the principal commercial and philanthropic enterprises of that time. He brought over and used the arms we give, and from his famous family come John A. McVieker of Salt Lake City.

the battlefield, but largely extended to seals and ornaments, it was natural that some notice should be taken of the arms of the families, and that the wife's coat should be combined in some way with that of the husband, especially when she represented the head of her house and the last of her family. The kings of France so bore the arms of Navarre after the marriage with the heiress of that family.

Here is a partial list of Salt Lake families who are entitled to bear coats of arms:

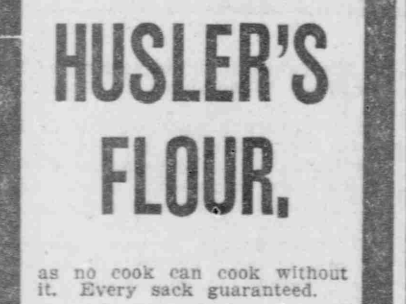

Allen, Babcock, Barton, Baldwin, Bassett, Brown, Bransford, Brinkley, Cannon, Chandler, Clayton, Cowan, Dinwoody, Dunn, Dugan, Ellerbe, Eldridge, Farwell, Franklin, Fox, Grant, Grissold, Henshaw, Howard, Hunt, Harkness, Hyde, Kingsbury, Kirby, Leonard, Lewis, Lloyd, Lowry, Morrison, Miller, McVieker, Morris, Marshall, McIntyre, Nelson, Nicholson, Peyton, Porter, Pendergast, Peabody, Read, Salsbury, Smith, Sears, Sharp, Stephens, Standish, Spencer, Thatcher, Tracy, Whitney, Wilson, Wright, Worthington.

BRAIN FOOD.

Is of Little Benefit Unless It Is Digested.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the best grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grain, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in a severe, out-door manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue in health.

As a general rule, meat once a day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and grains, fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult of digestion, and it is of no use to eat a brain worker to eat largely of grains and vegetables where the digestion is too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the relaxed digestive organs, and several years' experience has proven Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, peptic diastase, and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit, as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digestive; cocaine, morphine and similar drugs have no place in a stomach medicine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.

As One Lady remarked,

These shower bath robes are especially nice for the ladies.

'Cause there is no chance for getting the head wet. One objection to all shower baths. The coat fits over the shoulders. So only below the shoulders can get wet.

We venture if you should try one you would never do without it. It's a new wrinkle. But a good one.

You can always depend upon getting the newest things here. Everything else that makes bath pleasurable you'll find here. Soaps, sponges, toilet waters, brushes, toilet ammonia, borax bath tablets, bath mats, sea suit.

BETTER KEEP IT.

Don't let the money slip through your fingers. Don't pay 50 cents a pound for Baking Powder when you can get Three Crowns, just as good, for 25 cents. It is better than many of the popular priced baking powders, and is equal to any of the high priced baking powders. It is made for digestion and is sure to give you pleasure. It helps you to have wholesome, reliable food, and it helps you to economize at the same time.

New Wash Textiles

THAT WIN HEARTS.

Congratulations to the ladies of Salt Lake, who are eager to look their best. This is their opportunity. Of all departments, that of wash goods possesses a freshness peculiarly its own. The delicate tints and gauzy fabrics send forth a tempting influence, and wise is the one who appreciates the importance of early selections. With each succeeding year this department has shown an enormous growth and especially have the sales of our fine goods increased at a phenomenal rate. This continued growth has made it advisable for us to make preparations for spring upon a grander scale than ever before. The result can now be seen in what we believe to be the most perfect and exclusive gathering of fine wash textiles it has ever been your good fortune to see.
